CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION	1
1.1. Research statement	2
1.2. What are the candidate selection processes for European elections?	3
1.3. Candidate selection for European elections: why should we care?	6
1.3.1. Political and societal contribution.....	6
1.3.2. Contribution to the literature: three perspectives on candidate selection for European elections	10
1.3.3. What the study does not do	14
1.4. The approach of this study	16
1.5. Structure of the study	18
CHAPTER 2: STATE OF THE ART & THEORY	20
2.1. Introduction	20
2.2. State of the Art	21
2.2.1. What we know about candidate selection for European elections...and what we don't	21
2.2.2. Identifying candidate selection as part of the relationship between political parties and the EU	39
2.3. Theoretical framework	52
2.3.1. Of recruitment, institutions, and party behaviour	54
2.3.2. Toward a theory of party behaviour in multi-level settings	64
2.4. Conclusion	81
CHAPTER 3: RESEARCH DESIGN & METHODOLOGY	84
3.1. Introduction	84
3.2. Mixed methods: What? Why? How?	86
3.2.1. What are mixed methods? Definitions and types of MM research designs	86
3.2.2. What are mixed methods good for, and why use them in studies of candidate selection processes?.....	88
3.2.3. How are mixed methods used in this dissertation?	90
3.3. The data sources: case selection and data collection	91
3.3.1. Case selection.....	91
3.3.2. Data collection.....	92
3.4. Towards the data analysis	99
3.4.1. Descriptive analyses of the selection processes for European elections (Chapter 4)	99

3.4.2. The determinants of candidate selection processes (Chapter 5)	100
3.4.3. The differences between rules and practices (Chapter 6)	101
3.4.4. Case study (Chapter 7)	103
3.5. Conclusion.....	106
CHAPTER 4: PATHWAYS TO THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT – An Analysis of Formal Candidate Selections Procedures for European Elections	108
4.1. Introduction	108
4.2. Analytical framework.....	111
4.2.1. The selectorate: assessing the inclusiveness of the processes.....	112
4.2.2. The territorial level: assessing the decentralisation of the processes	112
4.2.3. Introducing the ‘complexity’ dimension	112
4.2.4. Eligibility criteria and intra-party voting systems.....	113
4.3. Operationalisation	113
4.3.1. Measuring the inclusiveness of the selectorate.....	113
4.3.2. Accounting for the degree of decentralisation	115
4.3.3. Measuring ‘complexity’	116
4.3.4. Reporting eligibility criteria and voting systems.....	116
4.4. Analysis and findings	117
4.4.1. The selectorate	117
4.4.2. Decentralisation	129
4.4.3. The overall elaboration of rules	130
4.4.4. Voting systems.....	132
4.4.5. Individual and collective criteria	134
4.5. Interpretation of the findings	137
4.5.1. Variation	138
4.5.2. Exclusiveness and centralisation.....	140
4.5.3. The complexity and shared nature of the selection processes	144
4.5.4. Criteria and voting system	144
4.6. Conclusion	145
CHAPTER 5: SECRET GARDEN OR JUNGLE OUT THERE? The Determinants of Candidate Selection Processes for European Elections	147
5.1. Introduction	147
5.2. The determinants of candidate selection: theory and hypotheses.....	150
5.2.1. Hypothesising the impact of home-bred considerations on parties’ choices of EP selection methods..	151
5.2.2. Hypothesising the impact of EU-bred constraints and opportunities on parties’ choices of EP selection methods	156

5.3. Data and Methods	160
5.3.1. Measuring the dependent variables	160
5.3.2. Independent variables	161
5.3.3. Control variables.....	165
5.4. Analyses and findings	166
5.4.1. Cluster analysis: dismissing the effect of the country.....	166
5.4.2. Bivariate analyses	168
5.4.3. Multivariate analyses.....	177
5.5. Discussion and conclusions	187
CHAPTER 6: "I BEND, INDEED, BUT NEVER BREAK." Formal Rules and Informal Processes of Candidate Selection for European Elections	191
6.1. Introduction	191
6.2. Theoretical considerations	193
6.2.1. Why informality should "rule" candidate selection for European elections?	194
6.2.2. How may selection practices differ from rules (if at all)	197
6.3. Data and methods	199
6.3.1. Data.....	199
6.3.2. Analytical framework	199
6.4. Results	202
6.5. Conclusions	208
CHAPTER 7: WAITING FOR THE GREEN LIGHT - Tracing the Selection of Candidates for European Elections in the French Green Party EELV	213
7.1. Introduction	213
7.2. Case study	216
7.2.1. The green parties as a most likely case of "intra-party democratisation".....	216
7.2.2. The French greens' institutionalisation & "intra-party democratisation"	217
7.2.3. EELV and the 2014 EP candidate selection: contextualisation and outcomes.....	218
7.3. Methods & Data	221
7.3.1. Methods: EOPT	221
7.3.2. Data.....	222
7.4. Theory and hypotheses	223
7.4.1. The effect of dominant party actors' preferences over selection processes	223
7.4.2. The appropriate behaviour of parties in a multi-level setting: hypothesising the role of ideological considerations in EP nominations	225
7.4.3. Incorporating external considerations in implementing selection processes.....	227
7.5. Analyses & Results	228

Camille KELBEL

PhD Dissertation: "Itineraries of Spoiled Children: An Analysis of Candidate Selection Processes for European Elections."

7.5.1. Part 1	228
7.5.2. Part 2.....	231
7.5.3. Part 3.....	235
7.5.4. Part 4.....	237
7.6. Conclusion	243
CHAPTER 8: CONCLUSIONS.....	246
8.1. Introduction	246
8.2. What are the main results?	247
8.2.1. Summary of the results	247
8.2.2. Why does it matter?.....	249
8.2.3. Are these results surprising?	254
8.2.4. What I did not find.....	255
8.3. What does it mean for (intra-party) democracy...and the EU?	257
8.3.1. Intra-party democracy and EP candidate selection	258
8.3.2. Democracy "at large" and EP candidate selection	262
8.4. Future research avenues	267
